Fire Commissioner Selection Deferred

A bob-tailed commission of the Lemon Grove Fire District Monday night decided to hold a special meeting Wednesday to name the successor to Tom Parsons, veteran commissioner who resigned.

Parsons moved out of the district Sept. 7 and his resignation, read Monday night, was effective on the date he moved. Parker Shumate, secretary, and John Hall now comprise the commission.

Two applicants were considered Monday but the two-man team decided to defer the decision until Wednesday to "encourage other interested residents" to apply.

The applicants were Mitchell Gegax, a teacher at Sweetwater High School, who lives at 7422 Canton Dr., and Wesley Buttermore, a retired employe of the S. D. Police Department and a retired plumbing contractor. Buttermore lives at 7664 Mt. Vernon St.

Shumate emphasized that either of the two would be acceptable but "we want to let everyone know that the post is open." The job pays $10 a meeting.

Residents interested in serving on the commission should address a note to Secretary Shumate at P. O. Box 65, Lemon Grove.

Information by telephone may be obtained after 6 p.m. by calling Shumate at 466-5577, or Hall at 469-3205.

The appointment is until April 1966, when an open election will be held.

'Musical' Chair Rhythmic Beat Is 'Heady' Tattoo

D. E. Hamilton, 57, threw a chair at Kenneth Martin, 35, and broke it, Hamilton told sheriff's deputies; but Martin took the leg of the chair and hit him over the head with it. Officers reported he sustained an inch-and-a-half gash in his scalp.

According to the police report, the incident took place at Hamilton's home, 9961-A San Juan, Spring Valley. Deputies arrested Martin, unemployed truck driver, at 2508 Sumac, San Diego, on a complaint signed by Hamilton charging battery and disturbing the peace.

Hamilton alleged that Martin had charged into the house while Ann Laura Moore of 1818 Noble, Lemon Grove, was visiting.

LANDMARK REMODELED — The Christian School of Lemon Grove, with a new coat of paint and other redecorating, presents a new look of an old landmark. The school is a branch of the San Diego Christian Schools, Inc. Shown here are (l to r) John Meacham of Lemon Grove, principal of the San Diego Christian High School; Mrs. Sharon Taylor, also of Lemon Grove, in charge of the lower three grades at the local school; and J. O. Dowell, president of the board of directors and principal of the overall schools. The building on the right formerly housed the Congregational Church and is now used by the school as a Christian Center. The structure on the left, formerly the church fellowship hall, contains the classrooms, all of which have been carpeted, and the offices. The school here offers private instruction from pre-first through sixth grade.

Assessor Rejects Bid For Supervisors' Chat

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County Assessor John McQuilken, in a brief but tense session with the Board of Supervisors Monday morning, "respectfully declined" to answer any questions that would have been asked of him by County Counsel Bertram McLees.

McQuilken said that he declined to answer under Art. 1, Section 13, of the California constitution, and two sections of the state Government Code. The constitution section says that in a criminal proceeding the accused cannot be compelled testify against himself.

District Attorney Don Keller was present at the meeting but did not speak. The meeting was called at Keller's request after Keller told the board that he has evidence of false property tax statements being filed in the assessor's office.

Would Be 'Useless'

After the assessor spoke, McLees did not attempt to ask any questions. He said, "It would be useless, in the light of the statement made by Mr. McQuilken."

Board Chairman Frank Gibson opened the unusual 9 a.m. meeting with a prepared statement. He said: "We have invited Assessor John McQuilken here to answer questions about his administration, particularly about the parts of his administration that have received considerable publicity. This is not a public hearing nor a judicial proceeding and I would ask that no one but McQuilken address the board."

Ned Kimball, McQuilken's attorney said he hoped the board was sincere in seeking information, "not an inquisition."

Interrupts Attorney

Gibson interrupted Kimball to say: "We are here to ask questions of John (McQuilken), questions that he can answer with a clear conscience."

After McQuilken had made his statement, Gibson asked him "is that your position?"

Kimball attempted to answer and Gibson said sharply to McQuilken, "I asked you, John."

The assessor said his refusal to answer was taken on the advice of his attorney. Gibson rapped sharply with his gavel and adjourned the meeting.

After the meeting Dent said: "I'm very disappointed that John took the stand he did. The questions were designed so that he could answer them without hurting himself. Most of them related merely to the administration of his office.

Kimball has filed a letter with the supervisors asking that the board examine Keller's conduct in the case. Kimball claims that the district attorney is attempting to try the case in newspapers without bringing specific charges against the assessor.

New Reader Drive Starts

A subscription campaign that is anticipated to add more than 500 new names to the Lemon Grove Review's list of subscribers will start soon.

To benefit from the campaign will be the Lemon Grove Welfare Association. Proceeds, over and above the cost of handling the sale and the delivery of the newspaper, will be used for for restocking supplies for the Thanksgiving and Christmas season, according to Mrs. Margaret Sayward, chairman of the Welfare group.

"Our supplies are down to the bottom," she said "Any contribution will be welcomed."

The Lemon Grove Review will contribute 10c for each subscriber and the names of the subscribers will be published in this newspaper.

On volunteer subscriptions (those not obtained through a salesperson to whom a commission is paid) a 25c contribution will be made.

Telephone solicitors will start early next week

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

Ten Keys For Unwinding

The life we live in this day of crisis and pressure creates tensions that our ancestors seldom experienced.

The fact that tranquilizers are prescribed regularly by doctors to a growing number of people is proof that tensions are growing rather than diminishing.

Dr. G. S. Stevenson in the June issue of Telephone Review reports that sometimes tension is good for you.

He says that it is good to be "wound up" for an important mental or physical effort. When it's over, you relax.

There's another kind of tension that's not so good, the doctor says. Often you can't put your finger on the cause. It stays with you, building up to serious proportions. He lists some commonsense suggestions for dealing with such prolonged stress:

1.) Escape for a while. It is no disgrace to run away, regain your balance, live to fight another day;

2.) Talk it out. Don't bottle up stress. Talking helps bring things out into the open;

3.) Give others a break. In doing so, you eliminate a lot of "me first" strain;

4.) Work off tensions. Do something harmlessly violent. Hit a pail of golf balls;

5.) Take things in stride. Don't expect so much of yourself or others;

6.) Speak up. You may be feeling neglected while others see you as "withdrawn";

7.) Take one thing at a time. It'll solve that problem of feeling harrassed by more problems than you can handle;

8.) Do something for others. This takes your mind off your own worries, gives you a feeling of satisfaction;

9.) Schedule recreation. Develop some personal interests that will absorb your mind, give it a rest;

10.) When all else fails, seek medical help, just as you would if you had a persistent physical problem.

All of which is good advice but we notice Dr. Stevenson studiously avoids making reference to that greatest unwinder of all—that of going home and starting a donnybrook with your spouse.

Why Editorial Pages?

By Miles H. Wolff, Executive Editor, Greensboro (N. Car.) Daily News, and President, American Society of Newspaper Editors

Why have editorial pages?

As simple as the question sounds, I have had a great deal of difficulty answering it.

The first reason is that we have editorials in order to let people know what the newspaper itself thinks about current affairs. Back in the good old days when the news pages were of editorial expression and news was written to present the newspaper's policies, there really wasn't a very good reason for letting the public know from editorials how it stood on the issues.

The reader could find out from the news columns.

Today, when every respectable newspaper carefully edits its news pages for errant editorializing, we need a page where opinions are aired.

But just to let the reader know how the newspaper feels is not enough. It is the duty of the newspaper to instruct the reader and to help him make up his mind. If the editor can convince the reader along the lines of what the editor conceives as right and just, that is fine. On the other hand, if the editor causes his reader to reason for himself, to come to a conclusion of his own, to discover the path he should take, that is better, even if the reader does not agree with the editor. Banquet Honoring Gigliotti To Draw Big Turnout Saturday

Ticket sales for a banquet honoring Dr. Frank Gigliotti are moving at a lively pace, Paul Reynolds, president of the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club, announced this week.

The Kiwanis club has named Gigliotti, a retired minister, as the Kiwanis Man of the Year. The celebration marks the Kiwanis Golden Anniversary. Gigliotti is a long-time member of the Lemon Grove Club which is sponsoring this event.

Gigliotti's banquet, carrying the theme "One Man's Dream For America," will be held in the Balboa Park Club in Balboa Park. A host of dignitaries will take part in the event. The banquet starts at 7 p.m.

Master of Ceremonies for the program will be Bud James, County Clerk, who said that Gigliotti had spent much of his life to help preserve freedom and democracy in the United States, and in Italy, the country from which he emigrated as a child.

Colorful Careers

Gigliotti has been a jockey, a pastor, an author, a public speaker, and an ardent worker for various levels of government, including the federal government.

He was a consultant to the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) during World War II. He is said to have parachuted into Sicily to help establish a democratic government as the allies invaded the continent. He later helped write the freedoms into the Italian Constitution.

Recently, he was active in regaining masonic property valued at millions of dollars from the Italian government. It had been confiscated by Mussolin's government, he said.

At the banquet Saturday, Starlight Opera singer Irene Cantos will sing a musical salute to Dr. Gigliotti. Miss Lemon Grove, Dianne Wyatt, will also sing a tribute to him.

State Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan will present him with a legislative award. Last week the State Senate honored Gigliotti with a resolution sponsored by Senator Jack Schrade. The resolution was in recognition of Gigliotti's work on the state Relief Commission and Governor Brown's Committee on Human Relations.

Governor May Attend

Governor Brown told Gigliotti that he would be in attendance if he is able to leave a governors' conference in Monterey Saturday in time to fly here for the ceremony.

George Scott, department store owner, will be one of the featured speakers along with Alfred Poenessa, former California Supreme Court Justice. The judge is Gigliotti's cousin.

An essay contest on Americanism will be judged as part of the ceremony. Byron Netzley, superintendent of the L. G. school district, is chairman of the contest. Municipal Court Judge Luther Hussey will make the awards to the winners.

An album, made up of the scores of letters of congratulations received by the Kiwanis Club, will be presented to Gigliotti at the banquet, Reynolds said.

Tickets are still available from members of the Kiwanis club or from the office of this newspaper at 7834 Lester Ave., in Lemon Grove. Cost of the tickets, which includes a dinner catered by Sam Pernicano, is $3.50, Reynolds said. The public in invited.

"This meeting will take up problems concerning the chamber's office which must be answered at this meetcided at this meeting."

Chamber Office Manager Helen Browne has been busy sending out notices and making phone calls in an effort to get all 18 board members to attend this meeting, ing," he said.

'Educationally Handicapped' Aid Asked

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees Monday night agreed to ask state aid for setting up three classes for children who have behavior troubles and emotional problems. These students are listed as "educationally handicapped."

District Superintendent Byron Netzley said the state will pay the excess cost of training youngsters in this category. Each class will train 11 youngsters at a cost of $910 a year a student. Regular training costs the district less than $450 a child a year.

The classes will start with the second semester, if the state approves, Netzley said. One class will be at L. G. Junior High School and the others in elementary schools, the locations of which are yet to be chosen.

Drivers Test Film

"The National Drivers Test", the special program that appeared on the CBS television network just before the Labor Day and Memorial Day week ends, has been made available on film for distribution to the general public.

Planners Reject Zone Bid For Commercial On Skyline

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County Planning Commissioners Friday unanimously rejected a bid for additional commercial zoning in Lemon Grove.

The rezone request was for 8.65 acres of land located on both sides of Skyline Dr., between Alton and Mt. Vernon. The application was filed by Chester T. Sieckman and six others.

The staff recommendation said: "There is adequate, nearby, better located vacant commercially zoned property in Lemon Grove. A small C-1 zone 900 feet to the south is adequate for neighborhood shopping. No additional commercial zoning should be established until present commercial property is developed."

The staff also said that the rezone would encourage strip commercial development along Skyline Dr. and materially reduce the effectiveness of that street as a main north-south traffic artery.

V. S. Drake and Ralph Standridge, owners of nearby property, both objected to the request. Standridge qualified his objection by saying that he would be for the zoning if it helped to get rid of Miller's Dairy.

Ed Miller, dairy owner, said: "Our asking for C doesn't mean we are going to leave."

Sieckman said merely that he planned to build a business office that would be suitable for a real estate office rental. No further development plans were told to the commission.

The dairy is a legal non-conforming use and is located on the west side of Skyline Dr. between Mt. Vernon and Alton.

White Cane Sales To Aid Lions Club Eye Clinic Fund

Lions Clubs' White Cane Days will be held Friday and Saturday throughout San Diego County.

This week in Lemon Grove, teams will be operating in major markets to collect funds by which Lions Clubs' vision conservation projects are kept going.

Lemon Grove Lions Club President Charles Montgomery said proceeds this year will go to the Lions Sight Clinic on Upas St. in San Diego.

Previously, funds were used to equip an eye examination room in Grossmont Hospital.

William Byrd, chairman of the local project, said that many underprivileged people make use of clinic facilities. These are people who are not eligible for County Relief eye programs.

The clinic in San Diego supplies aid to sick people through the combined efforts of the Lions Club of San Diego and the San Diego Optometric Society.

Eye examinations are performed free of charge. However, if glasses are prescribed, there is a nominal fee charged to the patient. The source of income, other than the fee imposed on the patients who need glasses are monthly donations made by ten Lions Clubs from San Diego County.

Lion club members will man contribution stations at five locations. Contributors will be given a miniature plastic cane which can be attached to the donor's lapel.

Stations will be established at Bank of America, First National and U. S. National banks, and Foodbasket and Mayfair markets.

800 other Lions Clubs of the California-Nevada district will hold similar campaigns on the same days.

LEMON GROVE PARADERS — More than 1,000 people of all ages — but mostly kids — took part in Saturday's Kid's Day Parade, sponsored by the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club. Here is how one bicycle contingent looked from the balcony of a Broadway building. Free ice cream was served to 800 to 1,000 children after the afternoon parade.

Twelve to fifteen hundred [illegible] of all ages took part in the annual Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club Kids' Day Parade Saturday afternoon.

The parade got off down Broadway on schedule under sunny skies with Dianne Wyatt, Miss Lemon Grove following a Lemon Grove Fire Department wagon in a sparkling convertible furnished by Spears Ford. Three of the county's top bands livened the event. They were the Mt. Miguel High School Band, the Helix High School Band, and the Lemon Grove Junior High School Band.

It was the largest parade so far, according to Bob Sutton parade chairman. In addition to the bands there were entries in costume, in wheeled vehicles and on bikes.

Nine children won prizes in the three divisions—and all the kids, from 800 to 1,000 of them—got free ice cream after the parade.

Mrs. Marguerite Howell headed the judging committee for the entries. Parade Co-Chairman Bob Howell announced the following winners:

Costumes—1st, Denise Hart; 2nd, Cindy Farness; 3rd, Joey Lubacik.

Wheeled vehicles other than bicycles — 1st, Rex Kennedy; 2nd, Adrian Alcala; 3rd, Christy Canet.

Bicycles — 1st, Cheryl Nye; 2nd, Renee March; 3rd, Sharyn Sikes.

After the parade there were free movies, athletic events, and a skateboard exhibition.

Lemon Grove Girl Scouts Fly By Jet Courtesy PSA

Seven Lemon Grove Girl Scouts had a thrilling jet airplane ride to Los Angeles Saturday afternoon. The sixth and seventh-grade girls were the second group of a total of 23 in Troop 661 who have made guest flights on Pacific Southwest Airlines.

The routine of the flight—one of regularly scheduled public relations flights for Girl Scouts—was shattered for pilots, hostesses, and operations people when the group showed up with a cake they had baked for their hosts. The red-and-white cake was decorated with a PSA airplane.

The girls were called back from their departure gate while flash-bulbs flashed and shutters clicked as pictures were taken by delighted airline staffers.

Accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Pat Owens and co-leader, Mrs. Marian Obendorfer, the girls left at 12:30 p.m. on an Electrojet, and were given a guided tour of the airport while at Los Angeles.

Via a Fantail jet, they were back in San Diego at 2:35 p.m. to receive certificates for their first jet ride.

each person ought to decide for himself what is best, and the editor can help him in this decision.

Again, in a democracy, a newspaper through the news pages as well as the editorial page can act as the conscience of the community when evil forces threaten. The news pages can call attention to the danger; the editorial page can suggest action that should be taken. This is most important, because there always are those who would take advantage of situations for their own profit. The newspaper must be on guard and be bold in its comment and its criticism.

The editorial page can also prevent apathy from eating away at the democratic institutions. I heard recently of a mid west town where there was a vital need for improved schools. A public meeting was held and attended by a slim crowd of 44. A bond issue was called for and an election date set. No one seemed interested until the local newspaper took a hand, set forth the issues and called for action.

The last few days found the community roused, lively discussions the order of the day, and differences of opinion aired on the streets. When the election was held, there were almost 900 votes cast and, where the former apathy might well have defeated the bond issue, the new-found spirit brought victory to those who wanted their children to have a better education.

Taking a broad viewpoint, newspaper editorial pages that are alert, that do their job as it should be done, can keep their city or town from becoming self-centered, self-righteous, and self-satisfied.

In other words, the community will act as it should in a democracy such as ours.

Girl Staters To Be Honored

"Youth Recognition Night" was marked by the La Mesa Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary at the Legion Hall in La Mesa Friday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. John D. Haslam, Girls State chairman, said that four local students who attended the Girl's State Rally at the University of California at Davis this summer were honored.

The girls were selected from four high schools to represent their communities. They were selected on the basis of leadership, scholastic standings, interesting government and personality.

Chosen were:

Ruth Longsdon of Monte Vista High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Longsdon of Spring Valley;

Marsha Johnson of Mt. Miguel High, daughter of Mrs. Frances E. Johnson of Lemon Grove;

Diane Foulds of Grossmont High, who lives in Fletcher Hills; and Nancy Jones of Helix High, who lives in La Mesa.

These girls joined 568 other students from all parts of California to attend the Girls' State Rally and it is to be noted that many of them have a 4.0 average standing in their schools.

Each of the four presented at the meeting on Friday evening are honor students.

Fire Prevention Week To Start On Sunday

Fire Prevention Week starts Sunday, and Lemon Grove and Spring Valley fire department will stress "Children playing with matches," one of the biggest fire hazards.

All during the week in Spring Valley students of the upper grades of the seven local public schools and Santa Sophia Elementary School, will hear talks by Fire Marshall Stan Mourning.

While these talks are being given, the lower class children will be able to observe fire trucks and equipment. There are to be skits on fire safety, with two of the local firemen Ray Massey and Ira Cobb, playing the top roles.

The purpose of Fire Prevention Week is to remind people to be careful with fire and thus hold down the toll in lives and property lost by fire.

The week is always observed in the week which includes Oct 9, the anniversary of the great Chicago fire in 1871. That fire took 250 lives, destroyed 17,430 buildings with losses totaling $175-million—a huge property loss in terms of dollars in those days.

Even with hundreds of people working with fire safety, there were 11,900 fire fatalities in the United States last year, and thousands more were injured. Property losses in the same year totaled $1,367,000,000.

Without fire-prevention efforts, however, annual losses might be three times the above figures, according to the American Insurance Association.

This is an appropriate week for all residents to check carefully for fire hazards around the house; weeds and dry grass too close to the property; gasoline in the garage close to water heaters; paint cans; leaky gas pipes; and many other hazards.

100 Kids Finish Reading Program

One hundred students of Bancroft, Kempton, Rancho, and Avondale elementary schools who participated in the summer reading program of the South Spring County Library, have received certificates from the four PTAs.

This was the first summer reading program by that library, said Mrs. Margery Scott, librarian. Each child was required to read at least ten books during the summer.

The Casa de Oro County Library held a similar program, its third, with 120 students receiving their certificates from PTAs of Casa de Oro, Highlands, Spring Valley, and Santa Sophia elementary schools.

Mrs. Betty Montoney, librarian, said some of the students read 30 books. She said plans are under way for a pre-school story hour, to begin the first week of November.

Marines Joining With Santa Claus

Two of America's proudest traditions, the United States Marine Corps and Santa Claus, are joining forces in a campaign to bring a happy Christmas to underprivileged children in Southern California.

Santa's Village, the popular mile-high amusement park at Skyforest, near Lake Arrowhead in the San Bernardino Mountains, will admit free of charge through Nov. 15 any child bringing a new toy for the Marine Corps' annual "Toys for Tots" program.

"We are very proud to be able to assist, in a small way, the wonderful program being carried out by the Marine Corps for needy youngsters," said George O'Rielly, manager of Santa's Village.

O'Rielly said youngsters who bring toys to Santa's Village will have their names read during the "Honor Roll Call" by Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy, as part of the daily entertainment program.

Santa's Village, year-around home for Santa and Mrs. Claus and their legendary friends, plays host to one-half-million persons annually, who visit its quaint buildings, ride the many exciting attractions and enjoy the daily entertainment which stars Raggedy Ann and Andy.

Sups. OK Survey On County Traffic

Second District Supervisor Henry A. Boney and the Fifth District Supervisor Robert C. Cozens announced that a traffic survey has started in their districts. The County Surveyor-Road Department, in conjunction with the California Highway Patrol, is conducting the survey to determine the number and weight of all types of motor vehicles traveling along key county routes. Purpose of the survey is to provide information on which to base road designs better suited to local transportation needs.

The Supervisors added that passenger cars and pick-up trucks are not being required to stop at the weighing stations. Trucks are required to stop only between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Truck traffic is not being unduly delayed by the survey, which is being conducted at various county locations. The study began Monday and will continue until Oct. 21.

Learn Spanish Quickly With New Method

You don't have to spend more than $8.95 to receive this entirely new method in teaching Spanish SPEED SPEECH. The originator of SPEED SPEECH, William Archer, has devoted 13 years to developing this simple method of teaching languages so that anyone from toddler to grandmother can now enjoy the satisfaction of knowing a foreign language.

William Archer was always a diligent student of languages, however, when he and his family moved to Mexico, he found that he could not converse with the natives after eight years of Spanish in high school and college. This complete inability to communicate properly was the inspiration for the creation of SPEED SPEECH. This amazing course teaches you to speak and think in a foreign language the same way that a child does. The child learns to express wants and needs by speaking long before he learns what the present tense of a verb is—so it is with SPEED SPEECH.

Spanish SPEED SPEECH is available only through this newspaper. Since it is being offered as a public service to our readers and purchased directly from the publisher, we are able to make this $14.95 Spanish course available to you for only $8.95. Follow the simple instructions below:

Fill out the order blank and mail it together with check or money order for $8.95 and you will promptly receive a textbook and 2 coordinated 45 rpm records and a dictionary of working words complete with the Spanish pronunciation spelled out, i. e.,

English a. to play
Spanish b. ju gar
Phonetic c. who-gar

Ice Skaters To Compete At Mission Valley Arena

Members of the San Diego Figure Skating Club will compete in ten events during the Club's annual competition at the Mission Valley Ice Arena, Oct. 4 and 5.

Spectators are invited to view the competition, the club's first major activity since moving its headquarters from La Mesa to the Central Mission Valley location in June. Events start at 7 p.m.

Both junior and senior skaters from all over the San Diego metropolitan area will be among the participants. The events will test skating skill in figures, free style, and dance techniques.

For some of the more advanced entrants, the competition is training ground for regional, district, and national competitions are coming up in the next few months. One of the local Club members, Roger Bass, last year went on to become national novice men's champion.

San Diego Figure Skating Club sessions, with private ice and instruction for members, are held at the Mission Ice Arena on Monday evenings. Interested persons are invited to attend one session as a guest.
